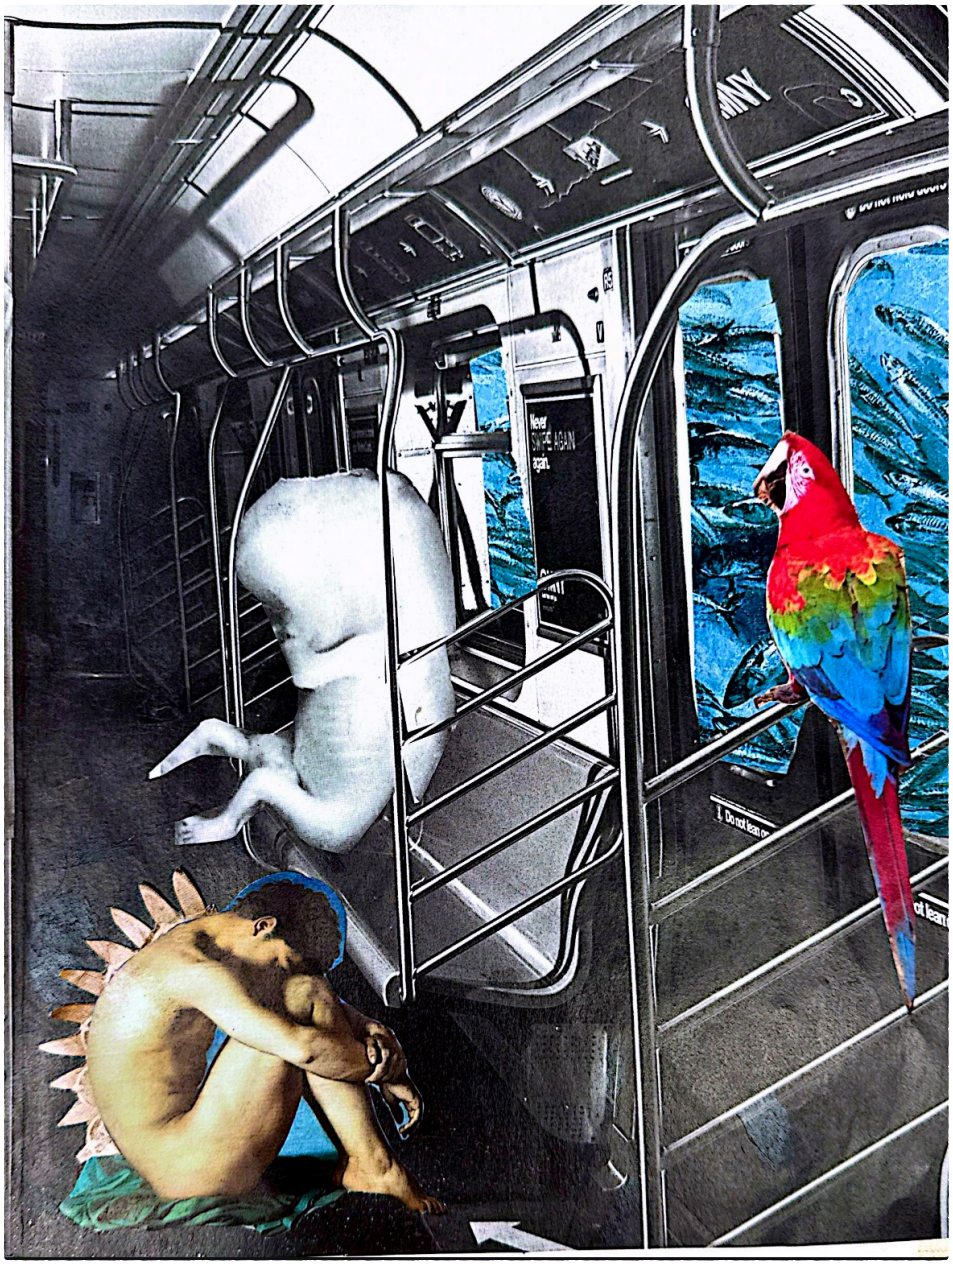
new paltz zine collective
fall 2025 semester zine

featuring real art
made by real people
who did real things

NEW PALTZ ZINE COLLECTIVE

FALL'25

"Subway Trip"
- West Allen

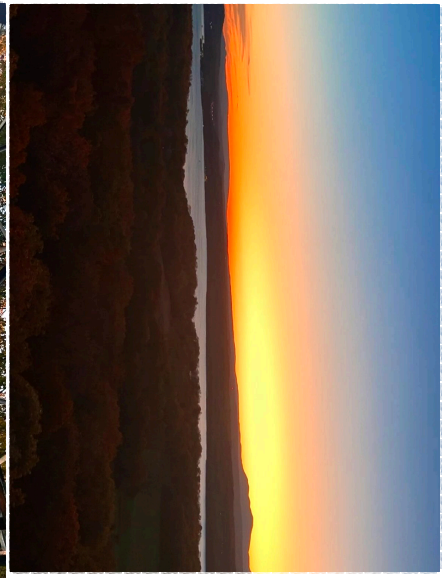


e-board self-portraits
+ a hair collage

"Dedicated to All the Right People at the Wrong Time"
- Emily Focarile

"Self Portrait, oil on canvas, 18x24,"
- Kat Wood

"Kingston Fire Tower"
-Emily Focarile



Zines and STEM

Zines are usually associated with the arts, humanities, and activism. But zines can be about anything.

They are great tools for science communication. They're easy and cheap to make and reproduce, they don't require publishing experience, and they're not intimidating to read.

While zines are not normally "peer reviewed", authors usually fact check, cite their sources, and will seek expert feedback before distribution.

Why did we make the library?

The STEM Zine Library aims to celebrate student work, highlight the diverse ways people can communicate in the sciences, and to encourage interdisciplinary experiences.

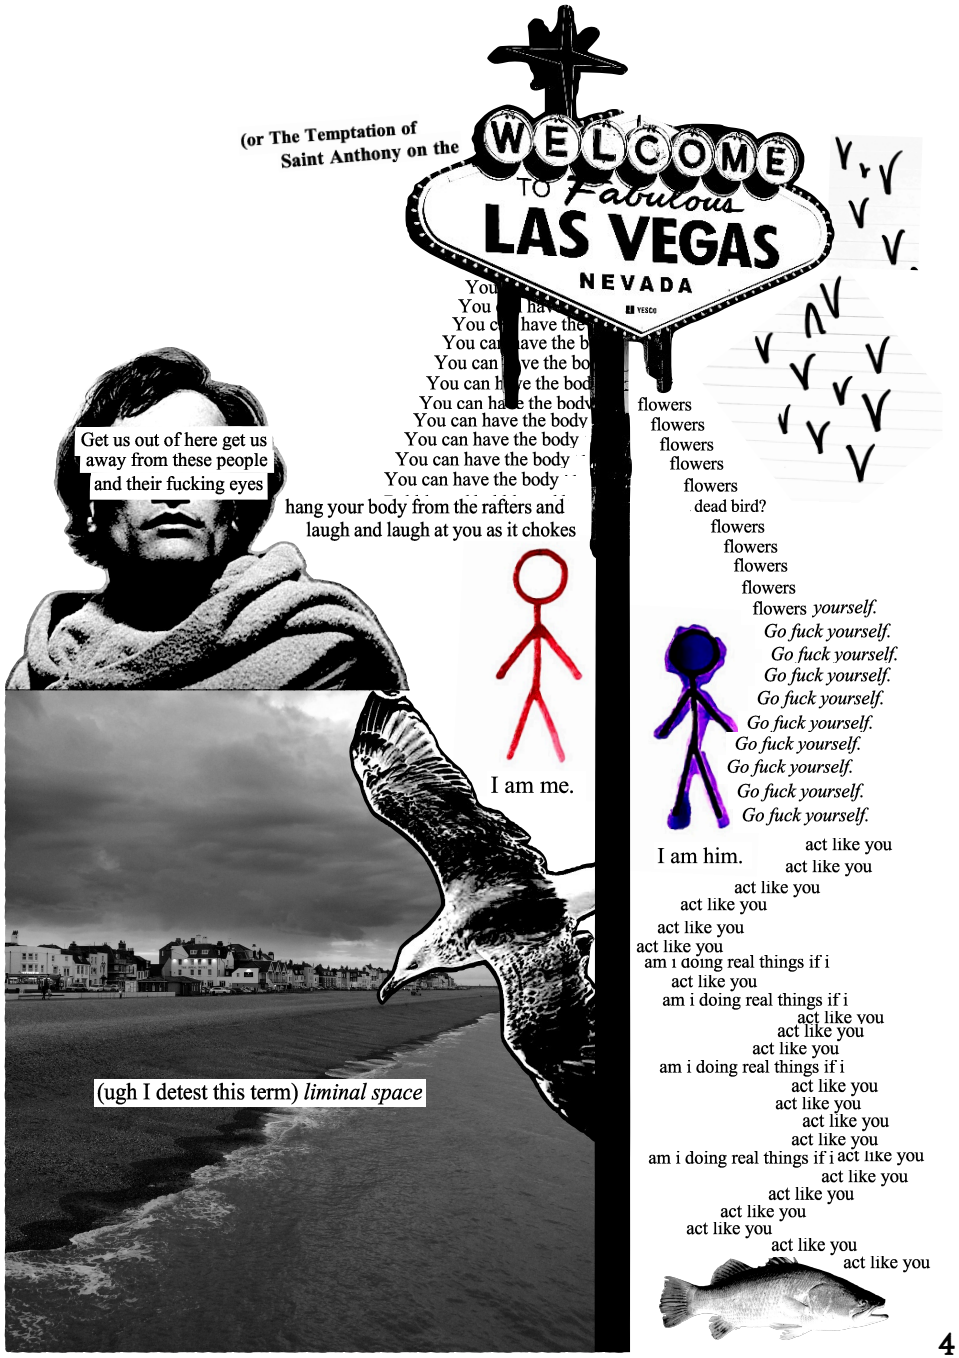
"The STEM Zine Library is a free zine library centered around STEM (science, technology, engineering, and technology) and STEM-related subjects. We offer plenty of zines for people to take and do with as they please, as well as offering the opportunity for students, alumni, and faculty to submit their own zines to be featured in the library. We aim to celebrate student work, highlight the diverse ways people can communicate in the sciences, and to encourage interdisciplinary experiences."

-West Allen, Organizer

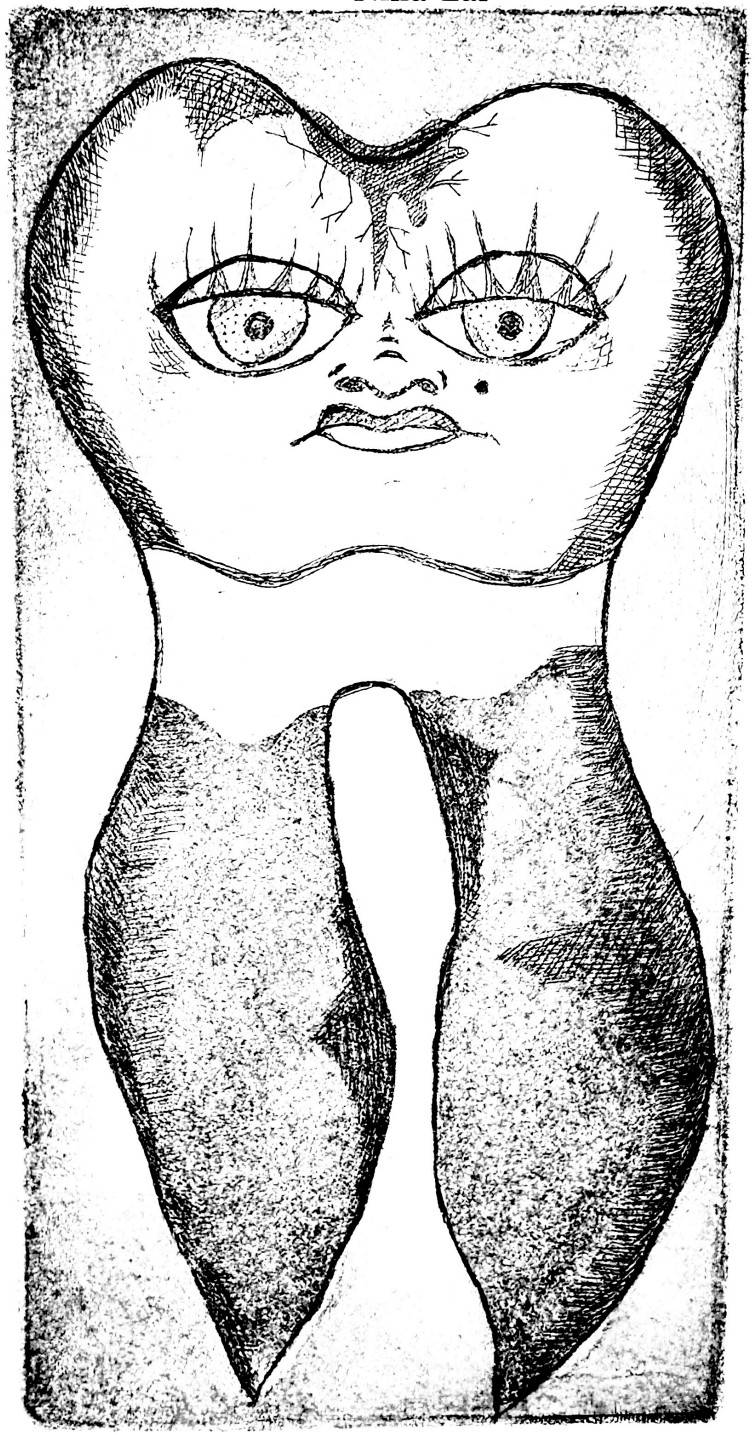
This semester we opened a new offshoot of our main zine library, centered on the sciences! Zines are free to borrow, and submissions are always open...
Located in the lobby of Science Hall.

"Antonin Artaud & something who is trying very hard to not be Antonin Artaud"
- Miles North

(or The Temptation of Saint Anthony on the



“Tooth Dreams (Intaglio)”
- Nina Zar



no titles
-Kate McCauley

"'Spring Fairy', watercolor & ink on paper"
- Victoria Stiver

[Oct. 29th] Zine Collective at:

[our wall!]

CREATIVE SPACE
IT'S FRIDAY
FIRE POWER
cope
& GAG
ACT LIKE A BABY.
1 UNBEATEN CREAM Never HONCHO
The Lure of the Catskills
EXPECT AHEAD
THE ONLY REWARD
LOST HUMAN! #23
SHEET-O-PAPER 8-PAGE ZINE
SUBMIT YOUR ZINES!
ASS IS LIFE
COLLECTIVE I GET TO FULLY EXPRESS MY
ART AND MY WRITING
OUTRAGE